Recommendations

1) Review your user stories together with the acceptance tests. You need to improve the level of detail to engage your client in acceptance testing at the end of each sprint.

2) Improve your report writing skills. Your report has spelling errors and no page numbers and commas. Some sentences are very long and don't make sense. Ask an independent person to check the grammar before you submit your next report.

3) There are contradictions in your report as well. You wrote in your report that there are minimal differences between your proposal document and your updated plans in one section and in another section you wrote that you had to deal with many changes. The content should be consistent. Please check!
